experience
and Made in Italy
since 1924

1924 - Vincenzo Milani founded a small turnery specialized in the realization of technical accessories for the textile industry and various other applications.

1974 - His sons transformed the company into TAMIL (turnery for small wooden articles) extending production to fashion accessory, model ship, toy, fancy goods for the home and office, decoration, knob and handle sectors. The company structured itself on a technological and dimensional level keeping the value of human relations unaltered.

1994 - The third generation constantly invests in technology, training and management offering its years of experience to the service of excellent Italian and foreign brands.

2002 - The brand name milaniwood.com® was born to propose products designed and manufactured entirely in Italy to a general public which is sensitive to quality and the environment. The company has FSC® certification (Forest Stewardship Council®) and follows responsible production policies.

Today - milaniwood.com® has developed its own lines of toys, games and wooden objects, which it distributes throughout the world through selected sales points, its own e-commerce platform and by participating in domestic and international fairs.

globe-trotter dominoes

globe-trotter dominoes 2 games in 1 to tour the world!

Globe-trotter dominoes is an innovative variant of the traditional game, with its own two versions, that takes the players on a tour of the world through the monuments depicted on the tiles. In the linear version, players have to join matching tiles - i.e. the tiles where the white line joins up. The winner is the first person who plays all their tiles or who has the least tiles left when the trip finishes (i.e. when no player has a tile that can be played.) In the memory version, the winner is the player who has the best memory for finding pairs of monuments in the same colour!

a forest race

a forest race of skill and focus to the finishing line!

The player whose go it is places two trees about 25 cm apart on the floor, and the three discs in a triangular shape, with the vertex facing him or her. On the first throw, the closest disc is thrown, such that it slides along the floor between the other two. For the following throws, any disc can be chosen. The aim is still to slide the disc between the other two, but if it touches a tree or another disc, or turns over, then it is the turn of the next player, who starts from the beginning again. The winner is the player who manages to get past the finishing line between the trees first!

colourful sudokino

colourful sudokino

A simplified game for children, with harder levels for adults

Colourful sudoku has a simplified grid of six 6x6 blocks where the aim is to play colours, instead of numbers.

There are 60 patterns to play, with 3 levels of difficulty, and the related solutions.

Even children who haven't yet learnt to count can play because of the simplified puzzles, colours and grids; for adults, the tougher puzzle patterns are an entertaining challenge.

Having chosen the puzzle and after setting up the board with the "target" side of the markers facing up, the goal is to play the markers of the right colour in the various spaces such that each colour only appears once in each column (vertical), each row (horizontal) and each of the 6 blocks.

Colourful sudoku is a game for the whole family, a coloured, contemporary design version of one of the best-loved logic games.

the dance of the gears

the dance of the gears
Gears and spinning tops in one game!

The dance of the gears is a fun game for playing around with how gears and spinning tops work.

The gears are rather like propellers mounted on small shafts with spacers. By positioning them in opposing directions, one can create numerous moving patterns.

By placing the rubber bands on the specially shaped shafts (or pins), coloured spinning tops are formed. It really is learning through playing!

woody builder

woody builder

Who will complete the most challenges while balancing the bar on one finger?

Woody Builder is a game to test yourself and your friends in a series of fun tests of balance and coordination.

The player whose turn it is takes the balance bar with the number of weights shown on the die and places it on the bodybuilder.

Then, the same player throws the personal trainer die and, lifting the balance bar with one finger, attempts the challenge shown.

The winner is the player who completes the most challenges without the weights falling!

chop the carrot

chop the carrot

Who will be able to chop the whole carrot, piece by piece, without it falling?

Chop the Carrot is a compelling game of concentration and dexterity.

Using the wooden toy knife, a player tries to knock out the bottom disc of the carrot, or even simply a single other disc, falling. Disc by disc, try to knock out the bottom piece of the carrot until the top section is on the playing surface. The discs can be straightened out a maximum of three times and only using the knife.

The winner is the player who removes the most discs and straightens out the carrot the fewest times!

Each player starts with 5 buttons. When it's your turn, place a button on the thread if you have one that is the same colour, shape or size as the last button and as one of the adjacent buttons, when you reach the buttonholes with arrows. If you manage to place a button, then you draw a new one from the bag; otherwise, you have to discard one. Extra buttons can be won during the game as prizes. The winner is the player who gets out of the maze with the most buttons! Younger players can play Towers, a game that helps them learn colours and recognise shapes and sizes through touch.
